Who Did What?

Together

- We did all of parts 1 and 2 together, as little of it could be done in parallel
- We also helped each other whenever we ran into big issues in either of our parts
- Much of our code from our separate parts was able to be modified to work for both parts separately.
- We found the HTML template for the landing page together

Roberto Noel

- I set up the landing page and the initial foundation of the project
- Then I did anything that related to customer
- I wrote the use case summary for General Use Cases and Customer Use Cases

Neal Shu

- I did all the test inserts for the database
- I did everything related to staff
- I wrote the use case summary for staff part
